DETAILED ACTION

1. This Office Action is made in response to applicant's papers filed on 11/12/2003. Claims 1-23 are currently pending in the application. An action follows below:

Drawings

2. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the features, "a set of analysis tools", "overlaying of grids", and "sync/blanking/active video patterns", all recited in claim 22, must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Objections

Art Unit: 2673

3. Claims 1, 3, 13, 16, 18, 20, and 23 is objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(a) because although this claim meets the requirement 112/2d, i.e., the metes and bounds are determinable, however, the following changes should be made:

Regarding to claim 1, "arranged in connection with said chassis" in lines 3, 6 and 8, source" should be changed to -- housed in said chassis --, so as to be consistent with the disclosure (see figure 3).

Regarding to claims 3, 13, 16, 18, 20, and 23, "cathode ray tube (analog) and flat panel (digital) displays" in lines 2-3 of claims 3, 13, 16, 18, and 20, and in lines 3-4 of claim 23 should be changed to -- analog cathode ray tube and digital flat panel displays --, so as to clarify the claimed invention. Additionally to claim 20, "TTL" should be spelled out in order to render definitely the limitation, "TTL level inputs".

It is in the best interest of the patent community that applicant, in his/her normal review and/or rewriting of the claims, to take into consideration these editorial situations and make changes as necessary.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

5. Claim 22 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. It is not clear what the applicant means "sync/blanking/active video patterns", i.e., "sync video pattern, blanking video pattern, and active video pattern", "sync video patterns, blanking video patterns, and active video patterns", "sync video patterns, blanking video patterns, or active video patterns”, or “each of video patterns including sync pattern, blanking pattern, and active pattern”.

6. It is noted to applicant that due to the rejection under 35 USC 112, second paragraph above, the following rejection to claim 22 is broadly considered and based as best understood, by the examiner, i.e., “sync video patterns, blanking video patterns, or active video patterns”.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

8. Claims 1-14 and 21-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Howell et al. (US 6,396,536 B1), hereinafter Howell.

As per claims above, Howell discloses a portable equipment (see fig. 1) and an associate method for testing video devices (see column 1, lines 41-43), the portable equipment comprising a housing of video asset 10 (corresponding to the claimed portable chassis, see fig. 1); a combination of elements 16, 18, 20, 22, 26 and three sets of output channels (3, 3, and 5) (see fig. 1) corresponding to the claimed programmable video generator and analyzer and including three sets of output channels (3, 3, 5) corresponding to the claimed signal/conditioner/switching device); a serial data interface (24) corresponding to the claimed command module; and a host computer (12) corresponding to the claimed portable computer and including a screen for displaying the test image (column 1, lines 16-19). Howell further teaches the programmable video generator and analyzer comprising generating means which includes a primary raster video generator (16), a secondary raster video generator and timer module (18), a stroke generator (20), and a distributed time base (26) (all shown in fig. 1) and a voltage sense module (a module including the sense ADC's and control DAC's, see col. 4, line 42 through column 5, line 3), and a video capture module (a real time capture 22, see fig. 1). Howell further teaches the computer being programmed with a redisplay tool (see col. 13, line 57 through col. 16, line 12). Further see figs. 1, 10, 12 and 13, abstract, column 4, lines 1-9, column 5, lines 14-59, column 10, line 64 through column 11, line 2, and column 13, line 13 through column 15, line 20. Accordingly, the elements and the steps of these claims are read in the reference.

Allowable Subject Matter

9. Claims 15-20 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims and overcome the claim objections above.

10. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the claimed invention is directed to a portable analyzer for testing video devices. Claim 15 identifies the uniquely distinct feature, “said signal conditioner/switching device includes a digital multi-meter emulator, a counter/timer emulator, a digitizer/oscilloscope emulator and a pulse generator buffer”. The closest prior art, Howell as discussed above, either singularly or in combination with other cited prior arts, fails to anticipate or render the above underlined limitations obvious.

Conclusion

11. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Steinberg et al (US 5,874,991, see fig. 1 and abstract) and Harrison et al (US

Art Unit: 2673

5,440,339, see fig. 1 and abstract) both disclose related the portable apparatus for creating video test patterns and delivering the video test patterns to a unit under test.
